Letter from Aleck. The State Journal publishes the follow ing letter written by Alexander Long. It a a full revelation of the recent plotting of the Peace Democracy and shows how they were brought into subjection. The letter was found in Columbus and there are no doubts of its authenticity. CINCINNATI, Sept. 29, 1864.

My dear Sir :-Your favor of the 23d was duly received and should have had an arlieranswer. Want of time is my excuse however, for not so doing.

I did not go to New York. Amos Green of Illinois, who was one of the conferees, and present at all the meetings at the St. Nicholas Hotel, was here and gave me a full detail of all they did.

They had passed a resolution to hold a convention in this city during the present week, for the purpose of making an Inde-pendent nomination, but on the receipt of my dispatch of Tuesday night, which was not received by Gen. Singleton until Wednesday, they then reseined the resolution, concluding that if Ohio would do nothing they would do likewise. And upon the rescinding of the resolution, the Metropolitae Record and Freman's Journal caved in but Ben. Wood determined to stand out alone and is doing so manfully, at a loss of from $1,000 to 1,200 d week. Singleton is in Washington now, and has not been home since the Convention. His whole soul is in the cause, and he is at this time operating through a channel you would not suspect, but which has been confided to ne in confidence.

The following is an extract from a letter written by a " West Side " soldier : ATLANTA, Sept. 21st, 1864.

FRIEND C .: - You see by my " heading' pportunities for learning that "Sherman has taken Atlanta!" Our corps was the first to enter the city and we no a occupy it. Our Brigade Hendquarters, where I am staying, are established, in a splendid mansion in the suburbs. So you see that, although we are soldiers, we are, for the present, living in a civilized man-ner. Is will probably not last long, however, for General Sherman is not the man to let his command he idle, when there is so much still to be done. I think that - is the point he is most likely to strike for when the next esmpsign opens, and we soldiers all think that, should Grant be successful at Richmond, one more vigorous campaign, like the one just completed, will wind up this business altogether. But, in the meantime, all loyal men in the forth must exert themselves to the utino to beat the trainers there, at the polls. McClellan will get some votes from the army—just enough to disgrace it. But his advocates here are not of a class to do him much bonor, for nearly all are men who light out" from every battle-field, and are usually under charge of the provest guard. Little Mac's letter of acceptance was a big thing, wasn't it? I suppose he thought he could draw the wool over people's eyes by that effusion, but it won't go down't stleast, not in this part of the ting the decline. What they think of Sheridan in Canadn.

General Sheridan is a model. Not only loss he win battles, but his victories do no lose their importance on the reading of the second a count of them. His dispatches are plain nurations of what he has done, and not grand prophecies of what he will do. But hest of all, when he gains an advantage he understands the importance of following it up. On Monday last he sors victory, and, in place of sitting down to wait till the enemy had recovered from the blow he pressed immediatly forward. On Thursday he had overtaken and whipped the foe again, and in place of halting even then, he still pressed on the persuit. Early on the following morning we hear from his at Woodstock, a point some ten or twelve miles beyond the battlefield of the previous day, declaring that he had "pushed on, recardless of everything." If such tactics do not gain their reward, it will not be the fault of the gallant hero of the Shenandoah valley.—Toronto Globe Sept. 26.
